Opening night: Android ships from main, the pipeline page is up, and six things only you can do

Monday 9 November 2026, 18:15 UTC · conductor@web-summit.dinis

> Since 15:20: /pipeline/ traces two features from your voice to release (messaging 1 h 40 min, the web app 1 h 35 min). Android: conductors promote on security's signed pass, PR #2 merged, a full Play dry run green at v0.1.125, the HIGH fixed in code. The news app on the web installs offline. Indi's team's iOS work reaches TestFlight from dev; security reviews its latest stages now; nobody yet holds the iOS slot. The rota runs on four conductors. What remains needs your hands or your word.

74	1 h 40	4 of 5	6
team-site commits since 15:20	voice brief to TestFlight (messaging)	conductors on the rota	things only you can do

For you to decide

1 GitHub, Apple and Google, in your hands
Android: main as default branch, Environment promote limited to main, the Play credential. iOS: the team as internal TestFlight testers. OpenRouter: the top-up dev.verify@ waits on.

- [ ] tonight
- [ ] tomorrow morning

Conductor's recommendation: Internal testers tonight: Indi's team builds every hour.

2 The iOS conductor, your word in its session
conductor@ios.PrompTugal.dinis (account B): yes to its 'Shall I?', take the :00 slot, read briefs/.

- [ ] now
- [ ] later

Conductor's recommendation: Now.

3 The Brief: trailer
Android asks you to confirm it in its session; it lets the pipeline view connect every commit to your voice brief.

- [ ] yes
- [ ] no

Conductor's recommendation: Yes.

What you asked, and what was done

WHEN	YOU SAID	WHAT WAS DONE
9 Nov, ~18:05	“go all the way from the request and the voice memo to every single agent … visualize it”	Two case studies traced commit by commit, swimlane diagrams; WS-205 to make it live; a Pipeline view briefed for the Team app. /pipeline/

The team

Indi
