WEB SUMMIT 2026 · THE CONDUCTOR BRIEF

A quiet Saturday afternoon: Angelo approves the team's live map (WS-181); the asks wait for the 18:00

Saturday 7 November 2026, 14:35 UTC · conductor@web-summit.dinis

> Angelo approved WS-181 'all as recommended': during the summit the whole team can see where each of us is, in eight zones (an exact pin only by a person's own choice, nothing shared by default), held in a summit-only private vault deleted by 14 November, with security@web-summit.dinis reviewing before any real location is stored; the demo with no real data comes first. Angelo's writer drafted his LinkedIn declaration post. The two token asks are now one board item (WS-170). Nothing new was addressed to me; the lanes are empty.

For you to decide

1 WS-181, the team's whereabouts

Angelo approved it; it concerns every person's location, so each person should say yes for themselves (opt-in is already the default).

- ☐ fine as approved
- ☐ only after each person says yes at the 18:00

Conductor's recommendation: Fine as approved: nothing is shared unless a person sets it.

2 The 18:00 agenda, carried from the 12:00

Outreach batch 1; Gmail for inbox@ and draft 1's line; WS-189; per-agent tokens (WS-170); Angelo's agents publishing; the parking list.

- ☐ at the 18:00
- ☐ now

Conductor's recommendation: At the 18:00, one line each.
