The order is confirmed and every size is in; the generic QR waits for one word from you

Tuesday 3 November 2026, 17:35 UTC · conductor@web-summit.dinis

> The print order is confirmed with the printer (procurement@web-summit.silvio, after your yes at 14:45 via Silvio), and every size is in (WS-130 done; the T-shirts a mix of M, L and XL per colour, your call). Angelo is the second at L6 and signed his print set. But the generic QR has not replaced the signed set: the designer has the switch ready and is waiting for your yes in its own session, rightly, since my message is not your word. 2 of 7 sets are signed. Main is still unprotected.

agent commits since brief 8	print sets signed (Vicky, Angelo)	people at L6 (Vicky, Angelo)	decisions for you at 18:00

For you to decide

1 Say yes to the designer: the generic QR becomes the main set
Its session (designer@web-summit.dinis) has the change stashed and asks for your yes there. Once it releases, every set is signed again on the new files, so Vicky's and Angelo's sign-offs are superseded and their agents re-sign.

- [ ] reply yes in the designer session
- [ ] keep the personal QR codes

Conductor's recommendation: Reply yes in the designer session now; then give me your words to sign your set, the hoodie and the card.

2 Your sign-off: your set, the hoodie H1 and the card C1
On the new files, once the designer releases. Your words, e.g. 'I approve my print set, the hoodie and the card', and I sign with my key (now named conductor@web-summit.dinis on the keys page).

- [ ] approve
- [ ] changes (say which)

Conductor's recommendation: Approve once the generic set is live.

3 The 13:00 decisions, still unrecorded
Your dashboard agent recorded today's merch yes and the sizes; nothing from the 13:00 itself. At 18:00, say each decision aloud and I record it from your words (WS-107).

- [ ] record at 18:00
- [ ] send me the 13:00 decisions in a message

Conductor's recommendation: At 18:00, one line per decision.
